Catering to connoisseurs and the canna-curious

Valley Jane

Valley Jane is the kind of effective, reliable take-the-edge-off option that our co-founder Stacey wishes she and her friends had years ago—a safe, consistent cannabis choice for hard-working entrepreneurs and moms just like her.

Valley Jane products are made so anyone can discover their perfect dose, or, as Stacey says, “Know your dose.” We cultivate and dose everything to remove the guesswork. That means scoring our gummies with dosage marks so you can start with one specific amount and adjust from there.

Whether you’re post-work, post-playdate, pre-bedtime or, you know, pre-bedtime, put down that glass of wine. Valley Jane is for you (and all your stressed-out friends) —so you can get exactly the effect you need when you need it.

Boujee Ben

Our Ben is anything but bougie. But we like irony, so Boujee Ben it is. Our Hudson Valley Jane co-founder and master cannabis cultivator is a legacy grower who approaches the process of crafting cannabis products with a chef’s mentality.

For connoisseurs in search of a premium experience from a sun-grown product, Boujee Ben is a collection of our highest-end cannabis strains that showcase complex profiles and deliver rich and expressive full-spectrum effects.

Depending on the strain you choose, the effects can range from a relaxed, meditative state to one with more of a focused “Let’s get it done!” vibe.

BB

In making our BB cannabis products, we take the same high-end strains we use for Boujee

In making our BB Cannabis products, we take the same high-end strains we use for Boujee Ben and grow them indoors, really dialing up the details. Because we can precisely control and fine-tune the conditions, BB buds are as vibrant as they are potent.

If you're an indoor-grow enthusiast, you'll come to BB for a level of craft that you can see, smell and taste—from the packaging appeal to the complex flavor notes ("Is that citrus?"). And you'll keep coming back for our rare strains and limited editions.
